Remarks :

 Legal knowledge content on Instagram : For each topic, the Research Team will be given one week to prepare a clear and accurate legal explainer for the post. Once completed, the material will be passed to the PRM Team for design and publication on Instagram.

 Follow-up discussion and student engagement : Each legal topic will be followed by an engagement activity. This may take the form of a discussion session held on a selected evening or a Google Form inviting students to indicate whether they agree or disagree with a related statement and explain their views. Selected responses will then be featured on Instagram.

Conclusion : Each legal issue will result in 2 posts, the original legal explainer and a follow-up post featuring students' perspectives.

5. Budget and Resources

- Projected Budget: No direct expenditure from the Law Society, subject to registration fees and available Society funds.
- Funding Sources:
 - a) A RM10 membership fee will be collected from new members, it will be used to retain as part of the Society's fund. (Start from next intake, FIL January 2027)
 - b) Registration fees for the Educational Trip to Kuala Lumpur (amount TBC)
 - c) Registration fees for the Intercollegiate Law Debate / Advocacy Competition (amount TBC)
 - d) Fundraising activities and potential sponsorship, where applicable

 Use of society funds : The Society fund may be used to support advance payments or reservations for activities, such as transportation and other necessary arrangements. It may also be used to provide a* 50% discount on paid activities for members who have paid the membership fee. For example, an activity fee of RM2 would be reduced to RM1 for registered members.

6. Marketing and Promotion

- Design and distribute digital posters via social media platforms and WhatsApp groups.
 - Set up a booth on campus to promote the event and encourage registration.

7. Expected Outcomes

- Members gain a deeper understanding of legal principles, current issues and emerging trends through seminars, workshops and discussions.
 - Members develop critical thinking, analytical reasoning, public speaking, negotiation and research skills through activities like mooting, legal research and discussions.
 - Members will be able to build connections with legal professionals, alumni and peers which provide valuable mentorship, guidance and potential career leads.
 - Members will be able to participate in events and take up leadership roles to boost confidence and enhance interpersonal skills.
 - Members gain a strong sense of professional ethics and responsibility aligning with the ideals of justice and fairness.

8. Risk Management

a) Budget Shortfalls

Insufficient funds can limit the club's ability to organize events or maintain operations.

Mitigation:

- Develop a sustainable budget plan with detailed forecasting.
- Seek sponsorships, grants or partnerships to supplement funding.
- Implement transparent accounting practices.

b) Event Cancellations or Low Attendance

Poor planning or external factors can lead to cancellations or poorly attended events.

Mitigation:

- Develop contingency plans for events including alternate dates or venues.
- Promote events effectively using multiple channels.
- Conduct pre-event surveys to gauge interest.

c) Technology Failures

Online or hybrid events may face technical issues leading to disruptions.

Mitigation:

- Test all technical setups beforehand.
- Have IT support on standby during events.

d) Ethical Violations

Actions by members that conflict with societal or legal norms can damage trust.

Mitigation:

- Promote a strong code of ethics and enforce disciplinary measures.
- Encourage transparency and accountability in all activities.

9. Conclusion

In conclusion, the ATC Law Society aims to continue providing students with meaningful opportunities to enhance their legal knowledge, practical skills and professional development. Through the proposed activities, including moot competitions, educational visits, advocacy activities, sharing sessions and legal knowledge initiatives, students will be encouraged to apply their academic knowledge beyond the classroom while gaining greater exposure to the legal profession.

These activities will also help students develop critical thinking, analytical reasoning, communication, advocacy, leadership and teamwork skills, while building connections with practising lawyers, alumni and students from other institutions. The Law Society aims to create a supportive and engaging environment that bridges academic learning with practical experience and encourages students to take an active role in their personal and professional development.

Through the commitment of the incoming committee and the support of the college, the ATC Law Society hopes to successfully carry out the proposed activities and contribute positively to the growth and development of its members throughout the 2026/2027 academic year.
